Problem creating slave sites from master site

Posted by ticasistencia - 2013/04/22 14:13

Hi. I am trying to create multiple slave sites (stores) from a master site with hikashop. I want to share users and hikashop categories. So I make a new site template as the one in the share user tutorial video (modifing to the master site not to the slave 1 web site). After I create a new site I see that in tools it said that it shares the hikashop modules, tables and user tables. But When I visit the site is absolutely empty. I modify the site template putting in "Folders and files" to copy almoste every folder but everything remains the same. The slave website appears empty. Any ideas? thnaks.

==========

Re: Problem creating slave sites from master site

Posted by edwin2win - 2013/04/26 18:17

If you have JMS 1.3.09 and Hikashop 2.1.2 or higher, the multisites functionalities are present and Hikashop is able to filter the categories depending on the website.

You need to setup the JMS Template rule for the Hikashop filtering.

If you have a problem of display of the Hikashop module, verify that you have postions defined in the Joomla module as well as pages on which the module must be displayed and also published the module.

==========