Refresh icon always visible

Posted by dti.unifesp - 2016/01/26 15:00

Hello

I have a problem I do not know how to solve.
I tried to update a slave site (01_limpo), but the refresh icon continues to appear, but it seems that is synchronizing to the master site usually...

http://www2.unifesp.br/arquivos/imagens/Site_Manager_2016-01-26%2011-49-39.jpg

==========

Re:Refresh icon always visible

Posted by edwin2win - 2016/02/11 11:24

The "refresh icon" mean that the number of tables present in the slave site does NOT match the number of table that is present in its "template site".

To see the list of tables, you can go in the JMS Tools and select on the slave site.
In the "table" tabs, you will see all the tables and you will probably discover that a table is present (or missing) into the slave site when you compare it with its parent (template site).

If you want to avoid this icon is displayed, you can modify the JMS settings to ignore the refresh icon.

Remark: When you have a large number of slave site, disable the "refresh icon" is recommanded to avoid consuming too much time to display the list of slave site into the JMS manager.

==========

Re:Refresh icon always visible

Posted by dti.unifesp - 2016/02/25 15:04

Thank You!

:cheer:

==========