

share only a group of users

Posted by c.bernigaud - 2009/07/01 10:51

---

How does JMS users sharing works ?

Is it possible to share only a group ?

If it works with a view it should be possible.

=====

Re:share only a group of users

Posted by edwin2win - 2009/07/01 13:39

---

YES it works as a view but I don't think you can create group of users.

Perhaps there are extensions that may do that but I don't know with the standard joomla.

As JMS create a view on all the users and the access control list, this means that everything is shared.

I have not create a view on a specific criteria.

This is a share all as explained in the user manual.

=====

Re:share only a group of users

Posted by c.bernigaud - 2009/07/01 14:52

---

Yes, you're right, there is no groups in the default installation of joomla.

But with a component which allow groups like Community Builder (or by adding a group table to JMS), it should be possible to make a view with a group criteria.

This feature would be very useful, all users would have a group on the master joomla and each group could have its own slave joomla.

I would need this, at least ^^

=====

Re:share only a group of users

Posted by edwin2win - 2009/07/01 20:54

---

Thank you for the idea.

Perhaps in a future version.

For the moment, I would like add new tutorial for JMS 1.2.x and update the website to provide a better service on the existing functionality.

I also continuing the test to provide a stable version in coming weeks.

If community builder accept that, you can use it as I provide the community builder sharing.
This perhaps solve your requirement.

=====