IF your question is relative to "Single Sign-In", this is normal that you don't have to relogin when working with website in subdomains or subdirectories of a same domain.

When working with different domain name, you have to re-login because the session are not shared by the HTTP Server (apache or IIS).

So when you say that the login does not work on the domain, I suppose you mean that you don't remain logged when you switch from one site to the other. If this is the case, this is normal as the single sign-in only works on the same domain.

you cannot use "*sight-events.com" to match "sight-events.bizsightpartners.com/", there is an extra ".", have to be removed explicitly while moving from subdomain to main domain.
