Can I do this with your extension?

Hi guys,

Before I buy this, I want to know if the next situation is posible installing JMS.

I have my website, this one will be the principal, then I want to install 5 diferent clients (a perfect clone website from my principal.)

I want to know if each client can login from my principal website an after that be redirect to his own Slave website.

I mean. :

- Client number 1 login from principal site, then go to his number 1 slave site
- Client number 2 login from principal site, then go to his number 2 slave site
- Client number 3 login from principal site, then go to his number 3 slave site
- Client number 4 login from principal site, then go to his number 4 slave site
- Client number 5 login from principal site, then go to his number 5 slave site

¿Is this posible? or each client have to login in his own site because I want to they login just once.

Thanks in advance , sorry for my english.

You can create your 5 slave sites but remember that each website is totally independent.
The login will NOT be shared.
