Dear Edwin,

Strange problem occured.

I have the following site structure:

Master
Slave 1
Slaev 1.1 (this a slave site that uses the DB of Slave 1)

User are shared between Master and Slave 1.1, configured in partia user sharing plugin.

I think this a correct setup.

The problem is, that any time if I login with a user acoount on a site's frontend it creates a new user in Multisite User Site component User/Site Management page.

I have deleted hundred's of users in PHP Myadmin when I found the issue. (By the way if I may suggest a checbox and mass delete option would be useful on User/Site Management page).

Please look at the attaced image. There are 3 "fradikajakadmin" user in "fradikajak" site. It is created any time when I login on the site. If I login in the Master, then a user is created in the Master again.

What is the problem here, and of course the solution?

Thank you for your help!

Jozsef

I am currently creating a new version of the "Partial User Sharing" that will allow mass deleting and mass set default users.

The fact that there are several entries in not really a problem but we will add a cross-check when creating the record to avoid duplicated entries.

Thank you for the answer!
If there are thousands of users duplicating of the users by login I think is big problem.
Anyway then I will wait for the update.

Dear Edwin,

I kindly wonder when the update of the partial user sharing is ready? This duplicating issue is frustrating.
I have not too many users yet, but there are hundreds of pages in "User/Site management" with the duplicated users, as any time a suer logs in he/she is newly added.
It is unable to manage users.

Realy need a fix.

Regards

Jozsef

The Partial User Sharing version 1.1.4 is now available and perform check on duplicated entries.

It also review some internal implementation to allow providing in the future a partial sharing for other extension.
