:master_db: appears at various places.

Posted by iage - 2013/02/19 10:38

Hello,

The string :master_db: appears at various places in the backend and with the multisites search plugins also in the frontend in the search results:

https://www.jms2win.com/images/fbfiles/images/search.png

Can this be replaced with the name/url of the master site?

regards

-Stephan

==========

Re: :master_db: appears at various places.

Posted by edwin2win - 2013/02/20 13:52

:master_db: is a special site ID that identify the master websites.
So when you have a slave site that use a rule to replicate the master, you can find this value in the template.

This also appear in many list of sites when you want to select the master.

==========