Cant Cretae slave site Help please!

Posted by wsxdeveloper - 2010/01/19 14:19

Hi!

I am in serious trouble, i cant able to create the slave site through Back-end.
This is what i wanted.

Master.com under that slave1.com and slave2.com

All these sites are resding in the same server.
Each has a spearte DB and file space. What i want is one joomla in master.com and only template and images folder in the slave.com. All the Other should be managed from master.com.

Hope i am clear.

Thanks in advace,
Ram

Dear Ram,

You have different video in the tutorial that explain you what to do depending on some cases.

To acheive what you want, this depends on the kind of server you are using and if the symbolic link is allowed (tutorial video 3 to 7)

First thing that I recommend to you is to apply the tutorial video that most frequently create slave sites into a subdirectory to avoid the problem of setting you hosting server.

Perhaps that your problem is related to the appropriate hosting server setup of the domain.

Your question does not provide any detailled information concerning the environment and the error that is returned.

See the tutorial video

If you want that we configure your environment for you, this is also possible with our billable support that you can order at
