Article Sharing

Posted by gshull - 2010/07/19 17:47

I almost have everything setup and was in the process of setting up the Cotent sharing component. I see that there is a dropdown that allows articles to be shared to specific sites. When I choose will that allow the article to funnel down to all the sites?

Also, is there a way to do this without creating a menu? If not, no big deal.

Thanks for your help.

Greg

==========

Re: Article Sharing

Posted by edwin2win - 2010/07/19 19:34

The list of site that is displayed when you create a menu item with "multisites articles" allow to select the "site" FROM which the artcile must be read.

This mean it PULL and not push the article like you seem formulate your question when you ask a drowpdown to select the website where to publish the article.

Today this is the only method to display "shared" article that comes from other websites.

We have an internal Multisites Search plugin that will coming soon and that will allow to search in articles, categories and sections.

==========