Unable to get the Website ID

Posted by muskes - 2010/04/12 17:48

Hello,

when I add a php-script in the field "On deploy success" I receive the errormessage:

Unable to get the Website ID

Whats going wrong?

Thank You.

Regards
muskes

==========

Re:Unable to get the Website ID

Posted by muskes - 2010/04/12 18:48

I receive this message:

An error occurs when creating the site ID = for the user
The error reported is : 004
The message is: ArrayError code starting with the letter is a warning and the website is created for a limited period of time with ads displayed.
If this is the case, you probably must increase your website quota in the www.jms2win.com website.

...but I don´t use billable websites, I just want to add/execute a script, which creates automatically the subdomains and maps them to the deployed directory.

Regards
Muskes

==========

Re:Unable to get the Website ID

Posted by edwin2win - 2010/04/13 10:20

To customize (use the scripts), you need to have registered JMS and enable the "billable website" that works with website quota.

==========