jms component in slave site

I have a template creating a slave site using a slave DB and not sharing users, I am creating specific theme, image folders and on the folder tab i have ignore on the multisite directory.

Should I be seeing the JMS multisite component on the slave site under the component heading?

I should have drank an extra cup of coffee and woke up more!!!!
I was using the wrong template duh and was replicating the master website into my slaveDB
