hi there,  :)

i've been using this component for a few days and i want to know if it works on localhost, cause i can't make it work :blink:. maybe the problem is in between the chair and the screen  :lol:.
i didn't have much time to read the manual properly but still can't make it work.

tanx in advance.

YES it works on a localhost.
See the user manual chapter 9 that explain how you can simulate a real domain.
http://www.jms2win.com/documentation/doc_download/14-users-manual-version-12

Never use a slave site with the domain containing a localhost value otherwise you will not be able to use the procedure described in chapter 9.
