Shared users no show, slave shows fresh install

Posted by Ameson - 2011/01/22 05:20

I am attempting to create a slave of my master website, http://myuniport.net

My intention is to create a slave site with its own database at www.shixuenet.com

I wish the users, jomsocial data and JSPT profile types extensions to be shared. So, if someone registers on Myunport.net, their user details will also appear on shixuenet.com

Initial question: is it possible that upon creation, if someone signs up on the slave site, the details will also show on the master site?

Main Problem: I have created an addon domain shixuenet.com in my cPanel. I have created a template with sharing rules (Joomla users, Jomsoical, JSPT).

I have attempted several installs, but every time, it seems like a fresh install – the users and Jomsocial data does not appear in the fresh site.

I imagine I have made an error in my settings. I hope support to go over these and see where I have gone wrong:

Template setup (using its own DB on the same server):

Folders in the template setup: http://www.jms2win.com/images/fbfiles/images/folders_files.jpg

Sharing is turned on: http://www.jms2win.com/images/fbfiles/images/sharing.jpg

Slave site creation: http://www.jms2win.com/images/fbfiles/images/slide1.jpg

To repeat, I am able to create new installations just fine, the problem is that I always get a fresh install, when I actually want to have the users and Jomsocial stuff shared.

I suspect the problem is in my settings, please let me know where I have gone wrong.

I am almost there. I have create an exact copy of my master site, which I will use as the master for slave sites.

Slave site user sharing and extensions is on, at shixuenet.com. I can install applications via the tools JMS panel from the master site, but I am still unable to get the users showing up on the slave site.

What am I missing?

When you have a look on the slave site creation, you select a template "share" that does not seems provide a description of a DB as you don't have all the parameters (New host, new DB, ...) as you could see in the tutorial video 16.

So you have to review the "share" template.
I noticed that you didn't specified any "new DB prefix".
In general, you will see that we are using {site_id}
