Is it possible to share CB users but have different tabs/plugins on the slave sites (i.e different profiles?)

When you decide to share CB, you share all its content because in fact you create a link between the CB tables between websites.
Therefore, it is not possible to only share a part of CB.

at some point in the future, could this be an option in JMS: to choose to share all cb, just cb users, or just cbusers & fields?
