It is not possible to share the WebLinks extensions because this extension shares the categories tables that is used by other extensions like the articles, ...

So if you want to share the "WebLinks" table you also need to share the categories and therefore you have also to share the articles, the users and other informations.
So share this WebLinks require to share other extensions that is not the objective.

I have no solution to propose except the one that would consist to write a special WebLinks that does not share the same category tables than the other extensions.
