Slave Websites don't login on backend Posted by darshan - 2012/09/11 12:29
Hello,
Recently I have transferred working setup of 1 master and 2 slave website to another server which is having following problem.(New Server Linux, supports Symbolic links)
I have configured two slave websites which show their individual home page but do not show other article pages however,master website works fine.(both frontend and backend)
When I try to login on backend of slave website, it shows login page to enter username and password but does not authenticate administrator
Note: all configuration.php files are configured properly with db connection information
Hope you can help me to understand what's wrong
Thanks
