Hello Edwin, I like the functionality of your site here(http://www.mywebsite2win.com) and I'd like to know which of your product plans I should select that will have me get this kind of functionality - Basic, Medium or Full Edition?

I want to create lots of sites in different categories and then have my clients easily create their website depending on the category and templates under the category they choose.
Please give me the full details on what I'll need to achieve this.

Best regards!

To be able creating website from the front-end like mywebsite2win.com, you need the JMS full edition + the bridge for VirtueMart to process the payment and ordering.

To get the list of website like a directory, you also need the "List websties for anonymous users" layout

JMS => http://www.jms2win.com
Bridge for VM1 =>
https://www.jms2win.com/en/joomla-multisite?page=shop.product_details&flypage=flypage_multisites.tpl&product_id=33&category_id=1
Bridge for VM2 =>
https://www.jms2win.com/en/joomla-multisite?page=shop.product_details&flypage=flypage_multisites.tpl&product_id=65&category_id=1
Layout => http://jms2win.com/en/joomla-multisite?page=shop.browse&category_id=11

You may also need the "Multisites Create site" module to do something similar to the demo.meeting2win.com

You may also need to create your own JMS front-end layout to customize things and may also need additional custom plugin to automate other slave site settings like automatically provide contact information, phone number, address, logo, ...

1. Please what's the difference between the two VM bridges?
2. What's the total cost to have you set this up for me?

1) They are the same in terms of functionality.
The only difference is related to the version of VirtueMart as VM 1 and VM 2 are totally different.

2) Create something like our mywebsite2win.com tooks 1 week (40 hours) excluding the graphist and specific templates that we created.
