Community Builder(same configuration across sites)
Posted by tanya.gabe - 2009/02/09 12:20

_____

I'm using your Multi Sites extension for my websites. I'm having a problem with the configuration settings with Community Builder (1.2.0 RC4). The Multi Sites seem to share the same configuration setting across the different sites. When I edit the setting of one site, the others conform to those changes. For example, the user registration email is now the same across the different domains (this confuses the users). How can I have them have different settings?

Normally, Community Builder save the configuration in the DB.
To help me identified and reproduced the problem you have described, would you please give me a screenshot of the field that cause problem and mark or surround the field that would be common between website.
I need a detailled scenario to reproduce the problem to reply you.

I only observed the fields that are under the Registration tab (i.e. Registration Email Name, Registraton Email Address, Registration Reply To Email Address, etc). I keep the settings for other fields the same across the different sites. But I think they're sharing exactly the same settings. Click the link below to see the fields:

Community Builder registration configuration

Thanks!

With the screenshot and the detailled description, I have been able to reproduce the problem that I confirm.

I have sent you in your email the fix to let you review if it corresponds to what you expect.
If this is OK, I will publish it to every body with the "Check for Update".

Hi,

I didn't receive anything by email.

I have sent you 2 emails, one with the JMS and another one that ask you again to give me feedback.

If your email has changed, please send me an email with your new email address.

Hello,
I'm having the same issue on J2.5, how can I fix it? Thank you.

OK, I have noticed your requirement to share CB except the configuration.

I will review it again for Joomla 2.5

For your information, I have recently met the Community Builder team at "J and Beyond" and we have schedule to work together to see how to improve things between CB and Jms Multisite
