Maybe some one can help

Posted by ride2esc - 2010/11/02 12:46

Hello all
I have JMS 1.1.24
And i have this issue about jdownloads component.
http://www.jdownloads.com/

If i install it, on a few sites, they share the same folder, and the same files.
What i have to do, so each site to have it's own files, categories..?

Thanks a lot

==========

Re: Maybe some one can help

Posted by edwin2win - 2010/11/03 10:00

Why don't you setup the JDownload configuration to use different Upload Directory for each slave site.

Do in the JDownload configuration and change the first parameter "upload directory".
Remark:this rename the current jdownloads into the new name but why not restore the "jdownloads" directory manually to allow other rename by other slaves.

You can also define a JMS Template rule where you could also decide to create the JDownloads directory from a zip instead of a copy of the existing one.

Another solution could be the rename the download directory in the master and after go in a slave where you re-install the JDownloads.
In this case, this would provide you a new JDownloads directory created with the new install.

==========