Template over-rides

Posted by mordist - 2009/01/09 00:54

After installing a template for a sub-site and putting the new template folder in multisites//templates// I cannot just create a simple html/ folder to handle the over-rides in a stock manner... I found I need to create the template directory in the stock location to over-ride this functionality. Why? Is this planned on being fixed?

Thanks,
Sean
